

Tom + The Robot

Tom Hennemann,

master craftsman monochrome printer, aficionado of the alternative and wholly unconventional print, has also been known to photograph a little, like Larry Olivier was known to act a bit.

Tom's prone to dwell somewhat, too, on the subjects of death, decay and the seeds of new life that always lie dormant within.

But, lest one conclude Tom is too dour and dry to be possessed of sensibility enough for simple sensuousness, consider his images of garden variety weeds found in an inner city gutter.

Tom may have made them with his favourite Robot®, registered trademark and »Made In Germany, 1957«, but his awareness of the nuances of light, subtleties of texture,
and delicacy of form,
and structure,
is anything other than robotic. ✚
