

What I love about Advertising is that it's the only field where you are paid to question, and to think, outside of Academia, the Arts and Journalism.

If you do that in any other job, you're classed as a ratbag, a stirrer and a troublemaker.

Advertising is where such outcasts can find themselves a home.

